

FIRST NATIONS POLICE GOVERNANCE ROUNDTABLE

Listening. Learning. Building Together

A dedicated space for First Nations police governance.

Police Governance Ontario invites First Nations police governance representatives from across Ontario to join an ongoing virtual discussion focused on governance, relationship building, and shared learning.

Whether your governance body operates under the Community Safety and Policing Act, a Self-Administered Police Service, the First Nations Policing Program, or another governance model, your experience and perspective are welcome.

UPCOMING DISCUSSION

What Does Good Governance Mean ?

Together we'll explore:

- What does good governance look like in First Nations Policing?
- What makes governance effective?
- What challenges do boards face?
- What supports are still needed?
- How can we learn from one another?

3rd Wednesday
of the Month

12:00 PM - 1:30 PM
Eastern Time

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

- Police Service Board Chairs
- Police Service Board Members
- Board Administrators
- Band Council Representatives
- Police Leadership
- Community Governance Partners
- Anyone supporting First Nations police governance

WHY PARTICIPATE?

- ✓ Learn from the experiences of other First Nations governance representatives
- ✓ Share ideas and practical approaches
- ✓ Explore emerging governance topics together
- ✓ Help shape future PGO resources, tools, and training
- ✓ Build relationships across First Nations communities

ABOUT THE ROUNDTABLE

This is an ongoing, standing roundtable held virtually approximately every third Wednesday of the month.

Topics are shaped by participants and emerging priorities.

Your insights help Police Governance Ontario develop resources, tools, training, and supports that reflect the diverse realities of First Nations police governance.
